SWISS
TEXTILE MACHINERY
ASSOCIATION
MEMBERS

The Swiss Textile Machinery Association is part of Swissmem - the leading association for SMEs and major corporations in the Swiss technology industry.

The Swiss Textile Machinery Association is the representative body for Switzerland's producers of textile equipment, systems and services. Currently 44 companies are affiliated, including manufacturers of machines and components, and service providers, for the textile industry.

The companies offer solutions covering the entire textile value chain:

- Spinning
- Winding
- Weaving
- Knitting
- Nonwoven
- Dyeing
- Printing
- Embroidery
- Finishing
- Quality control

INNOVATION: IT'S IN OUR DNA

Geneva, Switzerland, 1783:
Jacob Schweppe invents a way of carbonating liquids, becoming the father of sparkling water - and founder of an industry which today sees over 200 billion liters of fizzy soft drinks per year consumed worldwide.

Vevey, Switzerland, 1819:
François-Louis Cailler invents the now-familiar tablet format for chocolate. His simple idea makes chocolate available and affordable worldwide.
Today, one billion Swiss-made chocolate bars are produced each year.

Geneva, Switzerland, 1956: Philippe Guy Woog develops the electric toothbrush. Using a machine in the mouth didn't appeal to everyone at first! But today many millions rely on automatic high-speed brushing to maintain healthy teeth and gums.

Canton Vaud, Switzerland, 1982: Daniel Borel's pc mouse invention goes into series production, connecting humans intuitively with their computers. Several billion of these ingenious little devices now click and glide through countless functions and applications.
